Steelworkers Grow Impatient For Raise

Government Seen Ready To Give Boost

Senate May Forbid Use Of Funds For Seizure Enforcement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers were reported growing restive today under pay scales put into effect 17 months ago and the government was believed about ready to give them a raise.

How much and how soon were questions Secretary of Commerce Sawyer was not answering. Sawyer, boss of the seized industry, had a tentative date today with Murray and Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp. Sawyer met separately with the two men yesterday— presumably to lay the groundwork for a government-imposed wage boost.

Asked to Disapprove

The Senate, meanwhile, may be asked today to show its disapproval of Truman's seizure by voting against use of certain funds to enforce the order.

A group of Republican senators yesterday sought to force a showdown on the question by offering an amendment to a deficiency appropriations bill barring use of any part of its $960,641,000 funds to enforce the order which put control of the steel industry under the Secretary of Commerce.

Actually, none of the money requested by the President in the bill was for that purpose. The measure carries some funds for the Commerce Department but only for its aviation and highway activities.

However, Minority Leader Bridges (R-NH), one of the sponsors of the amendment, described it as "a vehicle Congress could use

COURT MARTIAL "SIT-DOWN" PILOT—Reserve air force pilot Lt. Verne Goodwin, of Peabody, Mass., was sentenced to confinement for two years, dismissal from service and forfeiture of pay when a military court at Biggs Air Force base in El Paso, Tex., charged him with failing to fly as co-pilot on a flight last December. Goodwin said he refused to travel to England and back because his wife was expecting a baby.

Voice Of America Charged Refusing Clergymen's Talks

CHICAGO (AP)—A clergyman-editor declared today that the Voice of America has refused to transmit radio addresses by evangelist Billy Graham and Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, noted Catholic lecturer and author.

Dr. James DeForest Murch of Cincinnati, editor of "United Evangelical Action" magazine, told the convention of the National Association of Evangelicals that the government - sponsored overseas network has not given a well-rounded picture of American religious life.

Dr. Murch told the convention: "Information reaching me indicates that evangelist Billy Graham's messages have been ruled out by the program directors on the basis that his appeal for conversion to the Christian gospel is too strong."

He said he believed Bishop Sheen's addresses "have been rejected because of their being 'too positive' in Christian philosophy and ethics."

Dr.. Murch presented a resolution asking the convention to protest the religious policies of the Voice of America.

The resolution, which will be acted on later by the group, claimed the Voice of America has "failed to provide distinctively evangelical Christian programs and to mount an aggressive spiritual offensive against the blatant atheism of the Kremlin."

300 At Home Demonstration Council Rally

"Accept people as they are" was the advice of Mrs. H. O. Edward of Westerville, state president of the Home Demonstration Council, for the nearly 300 members of the Columbiana County Home Demonstration Council who attended the annual meeting in the Masonic temple Wednesday.

Mrs. Edward highlighted the 12th annual Achievement Day for the members who met under the symbolic banner "Builders" for the Cooperative Extension Service in "Home, Family and Community."

The speaker, who visited nine foreign countries with 145 other women of the Associated Country Women of the World, explained that different kinds of people make up the world and as soon as we realize that people are not patterned alike we will get along better.

Among the townships represented by Home Council members were Butler, Center, Elkrun, Fairfield, Franklin, Hanover, Knox, Madison, Middleton, Perry, Salem, St. Clair, Unity, Washington, Wayne, West, Willow Grove, Yellow Creek and Mahoning, Stark and Trumbull counties.

Installed in candlelight ceremony were executive officers Mrs. D. M. Allison, Mrs. Harold McIntosh, Mrs. Mildred Rice, Mrs. Elvy Thompson and Mrs. Mark Borton. Mrs. Waefler was installing officer. Mrs. Ruth Pendry, county home demonstration agent, gave a prevue of next year's projects.

Morning highlights included a "Then and Now" 4-H style review and a panel discussion on "Does Ohio Need a New Constitution?" The Homemakers Chorus entertained with selections and Janet Frazier played a violin solo.

Planning Ordinance Ruling Deferred

A ruling on the constitutionality of the city's planning ordinance won't be decided until early next month, although a hearing on the matter was completed Wednesday afternoon in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

The ruling will be handed down by Judge Joel H. Sharp after counsel for Irwin D. Tice, operator of a trailer court at 1311 S. Lincoln Ave. and City Solicitor W. J. Hunston filed briefs and answers in the case.

The hearing, which opened Monday, was filed by Tice's attorney, after Judge Sharp recently modified a restraining order, making the trailer court operator subject to prosecution by the city.

Tice was arrested April 13, 1951 and found guilty in Mayor Harry Vincent's court for violating the ordinance by not obtaining the required signatures of property owners within 250 feet of the lot involved.

New York's 94 Votes May Go To Harriman

Demo Candidates Meet At Dinner Tonight; Taft Raps Military

All the announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, except one, gather in New York tonight for a dinner that may shove W. Averell Harriman into the tangled race.

The $100-a-plate affair, sponsored by the New York State Democratic Committee, brought strong expressions of support to give Harriman the state's 94 national convention delegates.

One Democratic spokesman said Harriman, if chosen, would be a full-fledged candidate and not merely a favorite son. The 60-year-old Harriman, now Mutual Security Administrator, has worked closely with President Truman and the late President Roosevelt.

The organized campaign behind Harriman opened last Saturday but he has not announced as a candidate. He said he would "consider it an honor" to be endorsed by the New York Democratic organization.

Russell Not Expected

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia is the only announced Democratic candidate not expected to attend tonight's dinner.

Speakers at the affair include Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma—all announced candidates—plus Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

Barkley is one of those who has not announced but who has been mentioned as a possible Democratic standard bearer.

Stevenson clouded the picture yesterday by saying he "would not accept the nomination" for any office other than governor of Illinois "this summer."

McMahon's campaign was launched officially only yesterday. Connecticut Democrats insisted he is not merely a favorite son but was a full-fledged candidate for the White House. The move had unanimous approval of the state's Democratic central committee.

Russell picked up his first full slate of pledged delegates yesterday. The South Carolina Democratic convention agreed to give him its 16 national convention votes "for as long as his name is in nomination."

The state group left the door open for a walkout from the national party—they did so in 1948—by agreeing to recess their convention rather than adjourn. This means they can meet again after the national convention.

Mississippi agreed not to walk out of the convention but the state's delegation will go to Chicago not bound to support an candidate chosen by the national convention. They set up a $100,000 campaign fund to support Russell for the nomination.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., (R-Mass) spoke on Eisenhower's behalf at a GOP rally in Ardmore, Okla., saying, "We know where" the general stands and that "It's a waste of time to try to get Gen. Eisenhower to say how he would have voted on 3,000 different bills if he had been a member of the Senate in the last 15 years."

Taft spoke before a Republican club in Lansing, Mich., last night, accusing the administration of failing to build up U.S. air power because "land generals" dominate America's military policy.

He said this country should give top priority to achieving global air control to check Russian aggression instead of pursuing a policy of "global spending."

Mightiest Flood Crest Expected By Tonight

TOWN IS RIGHTLY NAMED—With water up to the roofs of most of its houses, the town of Big Lake, Mo., is already flooded by the Missouri River with the crest not expected for several days. Residents along the river in the northwestern parts of Kansas and Missouri have been evacuating their homes for more than a week.

Council Bluffs, Omaha Throw Dikes Higher

Two Die In Torrent; Pres. Truman Flies Over Stricken Area

OMAHA (AP)—The mightiest flood crest in the history of the rampageous Missouri river was due to throw its full weight against the dikes of Omaha and Council Bluffs, Ia., tonight.

For a week the twin cities had been preparing for the worst. They had marshalled armies of men with fleets of trucks and heavy earth-moving equipment to raise dikes and build auxiliary levees behind them..

From threatened areas of the two cities nearly 40,000 persons had been evacuated. Full-blown civilian defense organizations functioned in the face of disaster. Some 8,000 troops had joined the flood fight.

The peril which had mounted day by day would reach its climax with the arrival of the crest.

Floods Surge South

Still-rising waters prompted watchful waiting in other areas of the flood-ravaged midwest. As the floods surged southward, thousands turned from the levees to the great tasks of rehabilitation.

The Missouri, the Mississippi, the Milk in Montana, the Red River of the North in Minnesota and the Minnesota River all have hit with punishing blows and have a lot left to deal out.

At least two persons had died in the floods.

Last night, Mrs. Rosemary Mohr, 28, was being rowed to her home in St. Paul's west side by volunteer ferrymen Ed Thielen when the boat capsized. Neighbors heard Thielen's cries and pulled him out but were unable to find Mrs. Mohr in the darkness. Her body was recovered later from 7 feet of Mississippi River flood water.

On April 6, William J. Red Boy, 24, Poplar, Mont., drowned in the Canonball River, a tributary of the Missouri.

Biggest Group Threatened

The misery dealing Missouri, having sent thousands of families hiking for high ground in one of its worst rampages, was beating at the metropolitan Omaha-Council Bluffs area, the biggest segment of humanity it has had a chance to hit in this outpouring of wrath. A record crest of 31.5 feet is due tonight.

It was a vigil fraught with uncertainty that the huge force of army engineers who built the walls and dikes, soldiers and civilians who raised them much beyond the original height, were keeping.

They had built those walls and levees originally to stand a 26.6 foot crest of the river, a couple of feet over the best the wide stream had ever recorded before.

But the Missouri had a punch they hadn't counted on—the predicted 31.5 foot wallop. Today it was up over 28 feet.

100,000 Dispossessed

The Red Cross estimates that in the flooded areas of the four marauding streams there are 100,000 persons dispossessed, the majority in need of rehabilitation help and many more to be in the same need if the Missouri can break the Omaha - Council Bluffs defense behind which three-quarters of the population of the Bluffs feel the needle of fear.

President Truman flew over the area where the Missouri has ripped at the land and summed it up "It's worse than I thought it would be."

Then he appealed to the seven midwest governors who were here to join in a fight for flood control projects he said were threatened by a congressional "economy block" that has wiped out some of the most important projects he recommended for this control.

The President, the senators and the governors heard Army Chief of Engineers Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick state that if the 1946 plans recommended by the engineers were all in operation now these river rampages "could have been avoided."

Most Ohio Bell Workers Return

More Than ¾ Back Despite WE Pickets

CLEVELAND (AP) — More than three-fourths of 16,000 Bell Telephone Co. workers who were idle in last week's strike were back on the job today in spite of Western Electric Co. pickets, the company said.

A switch of picketing assignments at Ohio Bell buildings here yesterday enabled more operators to get to work without crossing picket lines. The result was that long distance service was nearer normal than it has been since April 7.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. reported today that all picketing at its buildings throughout the state had ceased and operations are "well on their way back to normal."

A spokesman for the phone company said by the end of the day all Ohio Bell workers are expected to be back on the job.

Although the Ohio Bell strike was settled Monday for weekly raises of from $4 to $7, Western Electric Co. equipment-making subsidiary for the Bell System, still is being struck.

The WE employes are CIO Communication Workers members, and most of the 900 of them in Ohio work in Ohio Bell buildings.

The CWA has instructed its Ohio Bell unionists not to go back to their jobs if they must cross WE picket lines.

In addition to the WE picket lines here, Ohio Bell buildings also are being picketed in Canton, Akron, Youngstown, Toledo, Dayton and Columbus.

Burglars Continue Nighttime Spree, Loot Three More Spots

Three more business places, two in the city and another just outside the corporation limits, were burglarized Wednesday night, bringing to ten the number of robberies here in the past two weeks.

The East Side Market, 922 E. State St., Happy Days Casino, 361 S. Ellsworth Ave., and Gilbert's Restaurant on Route 14 near the Salem Drive-in Theater were broken into sometime late last evening and early today.

Frank Davidson, manager of the market, reported thieves had broken a door window at the side of his store between 9 p.m. Wednesday and 8:50 a.m. today. Forty dollars in cash and about six cartons of cigarettes were taken.

Louis Slaby, proprietor of Happy Days, said the robbery of his restaurant and bar took place between 1:30 and 5:52 a.m. today. Gay Fredericks closed the place at 1:30 and police found the glass of the front door broken this morning.

Slaby reported $111 missing from his two registers and 11 bottles of whiskey also taken. One of the registers was found in a lot nearby and was taken to the police station for fingerprints.

Chief Nerr Gaunt is investigating.

Gilbert's Restaurant was burglarized between 2 and 6 a.m. today, according to Gilbert Weaklen, owner. It was the fourth time this winter that the restaurant has been robbed. Intruders entered through the rear door and took cigarettes, tobacco and small change from the cash register.

The burglary is being investigated by Sheriff Howard Clark..

Air Force Fears Pilot Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is worried about the possibility of a serious shortage of pilots to man the nation's military planes.

Its anxieties are heightened by a wave of stay-down strikes of Air Force fliers who have refused to take up their planes.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, lists three causes for the situation:

1. A rising death rate in military flights.

2. Insufficient "hazard" pay for airmen.

3. Reserve officers recalled to duty claim they are being asked to do more than their share.

Stay-down strikes have been reported at Biggs and Randolph Air Bases in Texas and at Mather Field in California. One flier has been convicted of dereliction of duty by a court martial and sentenced to prison.

Vandenberg, in testimony before a Senate armed services subcommittee, said that all officers who refuse to fly probably will be tried by court martial and face prison terms and loss of commissions.

Vandenberg noted that Russia is luring its best youths into flying duty by offering almost double pay and other benefits.

Ira Blosser, Leetonia contractor who is to finish the work, has been expecting instructions this spring to resume.

Jersey Bounce

For Republicans generally, the New Jersey primary results reflect Sen. Taft's strength in a state in which he did no direct campaigning. With approximately 37 per cent of all the votes cast in the preferential primary, Sen. Taft did almost two-thirds as well as Gen. Eisenhower, who was backed to the limit by the New Jersey Republican organization headed by Gov. Driscoll. There never was any question about Eisenhower's showing; he had the inside track.

Under the circumstances, Sen. Taft estimated that 20 per cent of all the Republican votes would represent a fair portion. He had no hope of matching or exceeding the vote for Gen. Eisenhower, who had full support of the Driscoll organization, besides his glamor appeal.

For New Jersey Republicans, their presidential primary—both in terms of preferential voting and delegates—raises a question about the strength of Gov. Driscoll. The governor's claims of a sweeping triumph are whistling in the dark, there was no triumph. Without Eisenhower's popularity to make him look good, Driscoll apparently would have been repudiated by his own party.

The repudiation would have been deserved. He lent himself to a scheme to close what had been planned as an open primary when he announced for Eisenhower before voters had expressed themselves. Sen. Taft then withdrew as an active candidate in a rigged primary, though he was unable to keep his name off the ballot.

His friends thereupon did their best to prove that Gov. Driscoll could not give the Jersey bounce to Sen. Taft, but that they could and would give it to Driscoll. They succeeded. The New Jersey delegation in the Republican national convention will not be in Driscoll's pocket.

The Fact Is—

It is easy to understand why facts should have become the most sought-after commodity in a nation of go-getters and realists.

It is not so easy to understand why the pursuit of facts shows signs of running the United States up a blind alley.

To understand that entails the grasp of the master fact that some facts which are sought after cannot be pinned down.

In the sense that fact is not really a fact unless it squares with the knowledge of an overwhelming majority of those qualified to appraise it, many so-called facts are—in fact—no more than opinions.

That is to say, they are not yet in the area of agreement. They are postulations, like the postulation made many years ago that the energy of atoms could be released by artificial means. It was not until the energy of atoms had been released by artificial means that the postulation became a fact.

Everytime there is a public controversy, like the one now in progress in the steel industry, the public is bombarded with "facts." There even are "fact-finding" agencies set up. Whereupon, the "facts" that have been found are contradicted with other "facts."

It would be simpler to call some of the "facts" by their right name; they are opinions. As such, they may be entitled to the utmost consideration—but not as facts.

A General's Strategy

The only remaining question about Gen. Eisenhower's strategy for the remainder of the campaign against Sen. Taft in Republican presidential politics was when he would come home.

The date is now set at a point soon after June 1, when he will be relieved of responsibility as supreme commander of the Allied power in Europe.

In the brief interval between his return and the opening of the party convention July 7, Gen. Eisenhower will make a few addresses against proper backgrounds, such as West Point and his home town in Kansas.

In these he will speak about broad general principles, thereby giving no one a chance to claim an important difference of opinion. This will be the strategy of what is left of the campaign waged in Gen. Eisenhower's behalf to keep Sen. Taft from winning the Republican nomination in 1952 by acclamation.

It is good strategy, no doubt about it. The strategy which has preceded it has been good, too. It has had the singular aim and effect of keeping the general on the "other side of the fence"—where "distance lends enchantment."

Meanwhile, the issues of the 1952 presidential election have been shaping up day by day. Sen. Taft has been in the thick of this issue-making. He has told hundreds of thousands of his countrymen first-hand where he stood and millions have become acquainted with his views through the press, radio and television.

Without taking away anything from Gen. Eisenhower, Sen. Taft now has withstood every kind of abuse which could be heaped on him by his opponents and is still front-running in the 1952 pre-convention drive for the Republican presidential nomination.

Truman's Seizure

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Constitution Violation Unprecedented

When Hitler began ignoring the constitution of the German republic back in 1933 and arguing that he had "inherent powers" and that judges should decide cases on the basis of "local sentiment," the members of the national legislature in Berlin were passive and acquiescent.

There is no Hitler in sight today in the United States, but the passive mood of Congress in the face of a usurpation of power by the President of the United States in seizing the steel industry is just about as it was in pre-war Germany.

There has been more excitement and outburst of indignation here lately over the way mink coats were obtai ed and more denunciation of the behavior of a lot of underpaid and dishonest employees of the Treasury Department than there has been about the stealing from the people of the Constitutional rights which are designed to protect private property.

IT IS TRUE that many members of Congress are absent from Washington due to the Easter recess, but even in the Senate about the strongest action they can think of is to make an academic study of seizure powers of a President in circumstances when there is no law that authorizes it.

There are some signs that business men throughout the country are greatly disturbed by what has happened. One would think the "liberals" who are usually in the forefront in any battle to preserve Constitutional liberties would be demanding action by Congress to repudiate what the President has done. Instead, the radical and so-called "liberal" group are standing by the administration, insisting that the CIO union deserves a wage increase.

Whether the increases recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board are or are not justified by the economic facts is no longer the issue. The steel companies would have settled long before the strike call if they could have been assured of a price increase. It is strange how adept the administration spokesmen have become in trying to focus attention on the wage increase, as if the steel industry wasn't ready to pay a just wage increase and perhaps even the amounts recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board if someone in the government were prepared or is now prepared to give an assurance of price increases to meet the added costs.

FOR SEVERAL days the country has been led to believe that there were serious negotiations going on here between the unions and the steel companies, with government officials acting as mediators. But the sum total of all this has been that the administration has refused to concede that any price increases beyond those covered under OPS regulations could be given.

When Chairman Feinsinger of the Wage Stabilization Board, who has been conducting some of the negotiations, was asked at a hearing before the Senate Labor Committee on Tuesday whether a price boost was required to break the deadlock, he replied:

"Yes, to a considerable extent."

This is the first bit of realism that has broken through the clouds of distortion that have hung over the whole steel negotiation.

Another piece of deception has not yet been fully exposed. The administration spokesmen, by their published statements, are trying to get across the same idea that President Truman used in his radio speech last week—namely, that it would have delayed matters to utilize the Taft-Hartley Act's machinery. Certainly this would not have been true if the President had acted at least a month before the strike was called.

This correspondent long ago, in one of these dispatches, warned that a deadlock had been reached in the steel negotiations and that, without a substantial price increase, there wouldn't be any settlement. Most of the news correspondents who followed the case knew this, too. It seems that everyone in Washington knew it except the President, who was receiving inside reports almost daily from the negotiators.

BUT MR. TRUMAN preferred to play politics. He preferred to take the union's side on wage increases and evidently believed that the steel industry was sufficiently unpopular from a political viewpoint that it wouldn't matter if he seized the industry without benefit of law. But, instead, Mr. Truman has succeeded in sending cold shivers down the spines of everyone who owns property in America. For if, without specific authorization by Congress, the President can seize the steel industry, he can seize all the corner grocery stores, all the shops and all the savings-bank deposits and hand them over to any pressure group that he selects.

Seizure of private property "without due process of law" is a plain violation of the Constitution. No President has even done it before. All seizures in the past have been derived from an existing statute, usually passed in connection with military operations in wartime.

Money Muddle

By TRUMAN TWILL

Certainly there never has been a civilization which knew more about raising money than this one, which is such a soft touch a crook once cleaned up handsomely by running a newspaper ad admonishing laggards to send in their dollars—only a few days left.

He did not have to specify what the dollars were for.

Yet, when there is money to be raised for local purposes by groups which do not have access to expert techniques, it's harder than pulling teeth where there are no teeth left to pull.

An organization of which the writer is a dues-paying member has been beating its brains and its collective gums for a way to raise a couple of hundred dollars to pay for an essential piece of equipment in a new school building.

It could be demonstrated with a simple flip of the imagination that this cause is at least as worthy as most of the things the American people underwrite in other parts of their own country and in other parts of the world. But whereas millions and billions can be pumped out of generous hearts for those purposes, getting a couple of hundred dollars for something at home is a puzzler.

The situation suggests the same invidious comparison made between local government struggling to collect enough public income to pay for basic housekeeping while the federal government put on a big enough bite to raise billions to squander on frills and furbelows.

It suggests there has been a loss of perspective in the handling of wherewithal. It suggests, moreover, that the loss of perspective has been brought about by deliberate distortion of reality. The distortion has been brought about, in turn, by the abuse of publicity and the abuse of taxing power.

Let a neighbor solicit a buck to do something in the neighborhood, or a local politician ask for a slight increase in tax rates and everybody clutches his pocketbook. But let some remote organization ask for a couple of million or a federal spokesman demand a couple of billion—and they get it without a whimper.

By some weird hocus-pocus the American people have been hoodwinked into an upside-down pattern of reasoning about the distribution of the wealth they create with their own efforts. They are Johnny-on-the-spot when it's a matter of shipping money elsewhere, but when someone prooposes to use a little at home they lick their lips and get the fidgets.

The damage is compounded because remote-control spending has hit such a costly pace there literally is nothing left for the local yokels to dispose of. The cupboard is bare. By the time a taxpayer has turned over the big bite to the tender mercies of the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue and doled out a lot of little bits to all the well-publicized do-gooders clamoring for it, he is not merely scraping the barrel but has gone through the bottom.

No wonder he then begins to think about trotting to Washington to see if he can't get a rebate. Maybe a few hundred bucks to do something for himself back home, along with all the good he is going to do for people he never will see who staked out a prior claim on his earnings while he was thinking about something else.

Spring Frolic

Campaign By Silence

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The leadership principle developed by Mussolini and Hitler was based upon the Nietzschean idea of the superman. Their concept was that some men are endowed with qualities that are beyond the human. They are in fact men-gods.

Under the leadership principle, the evidence of such superiority is that it exists. It was never necessary for Hitler to explain why he was the leader; it was sufficient that he was the leader. He asserted it.

George E. Sokolsky

In the United States, this leadership principle has never been accepted. Americans have never, even as regards George Washington, been willing that one man is so far above his contemporaries that he stands alone and aloof. History might do it for a man's reputation, as it has for Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, but the man himself could not assert that it was so while he lived.

It is important to take this into consideration in relationship to the plan of General Eisenhower to be silent on current problems until after he shall have been nominated. The assumption that it is possible to campaign by silence can only be an assertion of the leadership principle, namely, that General Eisenhower is a superman, over and above all other men and that he need make no explanations with regard to his desire to be President.,

If General Eisenhower's managers sold him that idea, they have done him a grave injustice, because no man, in the United States, can be placed on such a pedestal. General Eisenhower, if he wants the Presidency, will have to explain what he believes, what he proposes to do, what he favors, what he opposes. Otherwise, men will say that he fears to speak out.

THE SUGGESTION has been made that when General Eisenhower comes to this country on June 1, he will go to Abilene, Kansas, where he will sit, waiting for delegations. Those who manage his campaign forget that a hundred or more newspapermen, photographers, radio newscasters, etc., will also be camping on his front yard, and that these men—and there will be a few women among them—will be asking questions daily and will be telegraphing and telephoning stories to their wire services and their newspapers and they will be speaking over the radio.

Abilene will become a busy spot for news, if Eisenhower settles there for a month. No politician will reach that town without the reporters knowing what he is there for.

And these reporters will ask the General lots of interesting questions. For instance, a Southern reporter might want to know what General Eisenhower thinks of a national, compulsory FEPC. The General might answer that that should be left to the states, but such an answer would get him into hot water with large segments of the Northern population.

A C. I. O. reporter might ask him what he proposes to do with the Taft-Hartley Law, or national legislation for increased safety in mines, or whether cost-of-living escalator clauses should be compulsory.

Texas, California and Louisiana reporters will want his views on tideland oil.

An A. F. of L. reporter might inquire into Eisenhower's ideas concerning the arresting of the inflation and the relationship of GATT (an international trade and tariff agreement) to certain American industries which under such tariff arrangements cannot compete with European industries exporting into the American market.

SOME OF US who are interested in foreign affairs might put a proposition such as this to Eisenhower:

Granted that the United States should give aid to nations with which we are associated, should that aid be granted on the basis of their necessities or on the basis of capabilities?' With a budget reaching $100,000,000,000, how much aid can we afford to grant without impairing our own economy? With a depreciated dollar, down to 53 cents, based on a 1935-39 average, can we afford further to depreciate our dollar by increasing our national debt and lowering our purchasing power?

The next President of the United States, whoever he may be, will have to deal with that one problem every day that he is in the White House. It is the crucial economic question of American survival and it cannot be dodged because the budget forces it upon us. Every candidate should be asked to discuss this, so that the people may judge how each one stands on it. Silence adds no wisdom to that.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Avoid Too Much Foot X-Ray

The foot troubles with which so many people are afflicted today are the result of civilization. Few, if any, primitive people who walk without shoes have either flat feet or bunions.

Since we cannot go back to walking barefooted on soft spongy ground, other methods should be sought to prevent the serious foot difficulties which affect so many. The most important thing to do is be sure that a person is well-shod, not some of the time, but all of the time.

Of course, keeping the feet dry and clean and giving the feet exercise—on the beach when possible, or even on the rug in the house—may help some, but the importance of choosing the right shoe is undoubtedly paramount.

It is probably not necessary in most instances to use an X-ray machine or fluoroscope as an aid to fitting shoes, but this is commonly done, and the question has been raised repeatedly as to whether it might harm either the customer or the salesperson.

Until recently it was difficult to answer this question correctly, but now a report on this problem has come from the American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists.

This report points out that the use of shoe-fitting fluoroscope devices are potentially harmful for both salespersons and customers. The committee has consequently issued a "guide" designed to lessen the amount of radiation (X-ray) to which persons are exposed during the use of fluoroscopic shoe-fitting devices.

The recommendations are too long to quote here, but they should be carefully followed by every shoe store using such a device, and should carry a warning label reading something like this: "Exposure to X-ray may be harmful. Customers must not operate this machine. Limit for each customer: Five X-ray shoe fittings per day, yearly total not to exceed 20 fittings."

So They Say

If we try to build up our armed strength urgently . . . we may get ahead of a public opinion not yet convinced of the necessity for this action, or we may yield to exaggerated military counsels and try to do too much, too soon, which can destroy the (NATO) alliance. —Lester B. Pearson, Canadian secretary of state.

Our most important, and our heaviest military burden is not across the Atlantic. It is at home. Our own mobilization is our highest-priced investment in peace. —Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

You have a free press. You resent any attempt to encroach on that freedom . . . Not only newspapermen, but the people (should) be alert to resist this encroachment. —Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, publisher of the government-seized Argentine newspaper La Prensa.

Money is not required to buy one necessity of the soul.—Thoreau.

Its is getting more difficult all the time for an aggressor to attack (Western Europe) with any degree of success. The tide is flowing our way. — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff to General Eisenhower.

European Stars Dominate Show

NEW YORK

"The greatest show on earth" is dominated by European headliners. How come?

Well, it seems leading American acts are now almost non-existent and what few there are are mostly seen on television. So the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus recruits most of its top talent in west Europe.

Descendants of American circus performers are more apt to be singers or dancers aiming at the films, television or radio.

"They don't like the hard work attached to becoming a top circus performer," said a circus spokesman.

THERE IS still a strong family tradition in European circus families, he said. The children are trained to follow their parents on a trapeze or into a lion cage. They are put in the act as soon as possible.

Oscar Konyot, Hungarian-born lion tamer citizen of Milan, may offer an object lesson in why the circus is losing its attractiveness for performers. Konyot is in the hospital suffering from a badly-mauled left arm.

The lion-tamer's spectacular performance ends as he urges the lions to dash madly about the big cage. They leap over him and bounce from the wire walls. One lion didn't leap over him—but on him.

KONYOT'S assistant, a lean, wiry young man, Paul Fritz of Berlin, took over the act. Fritz said he took over the whip with some trepidation. "I have been working with lions for some ten years, but as you can see, I have some scars to show, too." He pushed back his hair to reveal several scalp wounds.

The danger always present is shrugged off by the performers as part of the natural hazards of their profession. Most of them are so glad to be drawing American salaries and eating American food that they would risk their necks three times a day, if necessary.

The youngest headliner this year is 18-year-old Dieter Tasso of Berlin, who gets a tremendous ovation for his slack wire act. In this, he balances eight cups and saucers on his head—finally tossing a lump of sugar with his foot in the topmost cup.

ASKED WHY there weren't more American featured performers, Karl Chaludis, of the Cycling Chaludis of Grag, Australia, said.

"This business is tough. We are brought up tough. Americans want to take life a little more easy and make big money. We are happy just to be here and working in the only business we have ever known."

Chaludis pointed with pride to his son, Karl Jr. Karl was backstage on a tremendously high unicycle balancing things on his head as he kept the bicycle moving back and forth with his legs.

He was still there—practicing and sweating—two hours later.

Biblical Byplay Sweetens Survey

Security-conscious officials of the Mutual Security Agency have hit on a new code for cable messages. And if all the Bibles in Russia have been burned, they'll have to import one now if they want to break this cryptogram.

The whole thing began when MSA's mission to Formosa was putting on the pressure to get an Americap team of experts sent over to survey the Chinese National sugar industry. Reorganization and modernization of the industry were being considered. The sugar harvest season was on full swing and no experts were in sight.

So the MSA mission cabled Washington headquarters. "Subject: Sugar Survey team. Refer gospel according to St. Matthew Nine, verses 37-38."

Looking it up, the MSA boys in Washington read: "Then saith He unto his disciples, The harvest season truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest."

Not to be outdone, the Food and Agriculture Division of MSA headquarters in Washington cabled back: "Subject: Sugar Survey team. Refer Psalm 27 Verse 14."

If the Formosa mission looked that one up for decoding, they read: "Wait on the Lord. Be of good courage and He shall strengthen thine heart. Wait, I say, on the Lord."

MANSFIELD (AP)—The "Freedom Fair" begins Saturday in Mansfield. About 50,000 persons are expected to attend the four-day exposition.

Theme of the fair is the freedom that has made Mansfield a typical, prosperous city—and the freedom that has made America the most powerful nation on earth.

The "Voice of America" will tell the story of the Freedom Fair in its broadcasts to Iron Curtain countries and the State Department will relate the story in European publications.

The fair will become the nation's newest weapon in its "truth campaign" against Communism.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche will officiate at opening exercises Saturday.

The Rev. Edward D. Gates of the First Presbyterian Church of Peoria, Ill., will speak Sunday. Rev. Gates won the 1950 award of the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa.

An invitation also has been sent to Robert J. Vogeler, who was released after two years as a prisoner of the Communist Hungarian government.

About 300 foreign exchange students from various Ohio colleges are to attend Monday and Tuesday sessions. Monday's principal speaker will be Col. Victor C. Swearingen of the Air Force Inspector General's office in Washington. Swearingen, a judge in the Nazi war criminal trials at Nuremburg, will speak to about 10,000 high school students from the Mansfiled area.

About 100 exhibits will be displayed.

Country Doctor Who Seldom Sent Bills Dies Of Cancer

INVERNESS, Miss. (AP)—Cancer of the liver is an agonizing death, but because of it Old Doc knew he was rich.

Not in money. He never made much money as a country doctor, though he got by.

He found that he was rich in friends, respect, and gratitude. On his scales they outweighed gold.

Dr. W. L. Ervin died of cancer of the liver at his home here yesterday at the age of 75.

And after 33 years there weren't many in this section of Sunflower County he didn't know or hadn't treated—or "birthed."

He rarely sent bills. A lot of his patients couldn't pay anyhow—unless it be in cornmeal, hams and sorghum .

Not long ago, however, when Old Doc had to go to Memphis, 140 miles north of here, for an operation to confirm his diagnosis of his own illness, word got around he was low on cash.

Money rolled in. A couple of days later, his patients and friends gave him $2,000 for pocket money.

And when newspapers told of the physician who didn't bother with bills, letters came from every state in the union.

Some letters held checks from patients he had long forgotten.

The largest—for $100—was from a couple whose child he had treated when they were penniless 25 years ago.

The smallest was a "widow's mite" of $2 sent in by an old Negro woman in Louisville, Ky.

There's probably not much that Old Doc would change if he could live his 75 years over again. He liked being a country doctor, he said.

"Best people in the world down here, black and white."

Funeral services were set at the Methodist Church here today.

Christian Basis For Peace Is In Homes, Methodists Told

Culmination of a four-year period of work and the beginning of another Quadrennial were combined at the district meeting of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service Tuesday in the Salem Methodist Church.

More than 350 women from over the Steubenville district, meeting in all-day session, heard Mrs. H. F. Brandt of Cleveland declare that the Christian foundation for lasting peace is found in the homes of the nation.

The speaker said that from these homes Christian ideals and principles spring, making better communities, a better nation and a better world. In the homes our children must be taught the meaning of the brotherhood of man throughout the world, regardless of color, she said.

She called attention to the many wonderful things which have been accomplished by the United Nations and she urged her listeners to become informed concerning the U.N., its work with 700 million people, who are learning how to use their freedom.

In conclusion she emphasized that the world is faced with problems caused by rapid growth in population, the atomic age and the tremendous weight of human need, and that heads of our great military strength recognize the importance of spiritual guidance.

"The areas of service for the Christian women are limitless and their responsibilities very great," Mrs. Brandt reiterated. Rev. R. C. Swogger, church pastor, gave the invocation and Mrs. Jay Spiker of Scio, district president, was in charge of the morning session.

Mrs. S. H. Pollock, district vice president, was in charge of the afternoon meeting.

Mrs. E. A. Preston, promotion secretary of Leesville, gave a report on the progressive visitation program of the district. This plan has added 66 new members so far this year in the district.

"That the Kingdom of God May Be Realized" is the theme of the next four years with stress on spiritual growth, widening fellowship, world church, peace, missions and discipleship.

Mrs. Harry Loria, chairman protem of the district nominating committee and president of the local society, presented the 1952-53 officers. Officers from this area include:

Miss Josephine Dunn of Winona, secretary of the status of women; Mrs. W. D. Edgerton of Lisbon, secretary of Christian social relations and local activities, and Mrs. Harry Laber of East Palestine, secretary of supply.

Miss Edith Glasgow, settlement worker at Dilles Bottom gave an interesting account of her work in that coal mining community. The noontide devotions were conducted by Mrs. John Longsworth, spiritual life secretary. Mrs. Swogger provided musical background on the organ.

Luncheon was served by the local women, assisted by women of the Daughters of Emmanuel of Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Mrs. George Dressel was in charge of the luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Lester Baldinger, dining room chairman, and Mrs. Carl Flickinger, ticket chairman.

Mrs. Otis Thompson, district treasurer, conducted the pledge service, securing $25,553.01 in pledges. "Come Ye Blessed" was sung by Mrs. Fred Sweitzer, with Homer Taylor as accompanist. Mrs. O. A. Naragon was in charge of the ushers who collected the offering.

A large white cross with lilies and palms formed the appropriate setting in the chancel and a smaller cross and lilies, red roses and candles added to the beauty of the altar. Mrs. Roy West made the year's posters which also were displayed in the sanctuary. Mrs. Ray Pearce was in charge of decorating..

Corsages for the district president and the two speakers were made by Mrs. A. V. Smith. Mrs. Floyd Craig arranged for the amplifying system so that the large crowd could hear. Other chairmen were Mrs. Olive Whinery, parking; Mrs. Robert Aikenhead, music, and Miss Nora Greenawalt, housekeeping hostess.

An unscheduled honor was accorded three women of the district, Mrs. Claud Ruckman of East Liverpool, Mrs. E. K. Barss of Damascus and Mrs. William Robinsong of Steubenville, who were presented honorary memberships and pins. The money with each honor will go where the need is greatest in the district.

New Waterford Man Nabbed In Theft

Charles McKnight, 26 of New Waterford will be given a hearing today before Justice of the Peace Felix Butch at Lisbon on charges of robbing the Slosser service station at New Waterford.

Sheriff Howard J. Clark said the service station was entered early Tuesday morning and about 20 boxes of shotgun shells, 10 cartons of .22 shells and $50 in cash taken from pinball machines and a juke box. Everything was recovered, the sheriff said.

McKnight was arrested Wednesday afternoon in Lisbon. Sheriff Clark said McKnight was traced when he dropped his Teamsters Union dues book on the floor of the service station.

McKnight has recently been taken off parole after being sent to Mansfield Reformatory in 1947 on a breaking and entering charge.

Doctor's Car Stolen

Dr. Frank J. Mangus of 925 Home Circle reported his 1951 Lincoln sedan was stolen from his home between midnight and 6 a. m. today.

Dr. Mangus, who had left the keys in the car, described it as dark blue, bearing the license number M 720 A.

Mrs. Mae Scott of 909 Liberty said the left headlight of her car was stolen sometime during the night.

Red Jabs Halted; U. S. Ship Attacked

SEOUL (AP)—Allied airmen tied down their planes today in the teeth of roaring winds sweeping down from North Korea.

On the ground, the Reds threw a series of light jabs at Allied lines on the western front. All were hurled back.

The Navy said in Tokyo that the American destroyer-escort Silverstein recently escaped unharmed from "probably the heaviest attack of the Korean War against a United Nations warship."

Red shore batteries south of Hungnam on the east coast fired 60 rounds at the Silverstein. Crewman reported 45 splashes within 200 yards of the ship.

The Navy said "rapid and accurate changes in range and deflection indicated the Reds were using modern fire control equipment."

Rep. Hays Predicts Kefauver Will Win

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, predicted last night Estes Kefauver would win the Democratic nomination and then become the next president.

The congressman from Flushing, O., made the statement at a meeting of the Columbiana County Democratic Women's Club held at the American Legion Post 275 in Lisbon. About 150 attended.

Hays told the group he was right when he predicted in January that Truman would not run and that Kefauver would. Mrs. Martha Hausfield of Ravenna, state chairman of the Democratic Women's Club, installed officers of the county group organized in February.

Mrs. Edith Wood of Wellsville is county chairman. All party candidates were introduced.

to express its disapproval of the President's action."

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), an appropriations committee member, told a reporter he was confident the amendment would be opposed strongly on the Democratic side.

Some Democrats said it was not relevant to the bill, which finances operation of various government agencies for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30. Largest single item in 348 million dollars to cover the 10 per cent pay raise voted for federal workers by Congress last year.

There was every indication that Murray would lash the industry in a talk scheduled this afternoon before the National Press Club.

Murray has done no more than issue a short statement in answer to last week's attack from Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel.

Randall said President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was a corrupt deal "that discharges a political debt to the CIO." He said that if any man threatened U. S. troops in Korea for lack of steel "That man's name is Phil Murray."

Murray called Randall's statement "a deliberate and malicious lie."

The CIO chief was fully expected to expand on that in today's off-the-cuff speech.

President Truman seized the industry eight days ago when repeated attempts to reach agreement on a new work contract failed. The union's scheduled strike was immediately called off.

The union is demanding a three-installment 17½ cent an hour wage boost, fringe benefits worth about 8½ cents and the union shop, which would require all workers to join the union.

Those are the settlement terms suggested by the Wage Stabilization Board, which studied the dispute for three months.

VETOS COUNCIL ACT

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—A city council resolution praising President Truman for seizing the steel industry and censuring the steel companies' actions in the wage dispute has been vetoed by the mayor. Council has no right to take sides in a labor dispute, Mayor Charles P. Henderson said, and described the resolution as "the most irrational thing council has done in its entire history."

Chinaware Imports Hurting Them, U. S. Potteries Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American chinaware industry is taking steps to get higher tariffs on imports which it contends are threatening it with shutdowns and unemployment.

The Tariff Commission has set for hearing June 23 the request filed by the Vitrified China Association. That body represents 11 manufacturers of tableware in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York and California.

Joining in the request is the AFL National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, which represents workers in the industry.

The request was made under the "escape clause" provision in reciprocal trade agreements with Great Britain, France and West Germany. The commission, if it finds that an industry is suffering from foreign competition, can recommend that the President take action to raise tariffs and limit imports for that industry.

The President is not obliged to take the commission's recommendation, but if he fails to do so, he must tell Congress why.

Dr. Robert F. Martin, executive secretary of the association, told a reporter his group is asking a return to tariff rates in effect before the trade agreements were negotiated. The agreements, he said, have reduced the duty on chinaware imports from Great Britain about 60 per cent, and those from France and West Germany about one-half.

The group also wants a quota restriction on the volume of imports.

Martin said imports of chinaware have been mounting steadily and domestic production is falling off. Employment is declining and some plants already are on part-time operation, he said.

One firm, the Warwick China Co. of Wheeling, W. Va., already has closed down, he added.,

Dr Martin estimated that wages comprise about 65 per cent of domestic industry's production costs.

Then he cited 1951 Bureau of Labor statistics figures to show that foreign workers in this industry got only a fraction of what American craftsmen earned last year.

The hourly pay rate, he said, was 16 cents in Japan, 23 cents in France, 29 cents in West Germany, 25 cents in Britain and $1.51 in this country.

As a result, he continued, foreign producers have been "simply underselling us."

Japan is not involved in this tariff proceeding, since there is no reciprocal trade agreement with that country.

Korea Vets May Top World War I Total

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration predicted today that Korean War veterans are "likely to equal if not to exceed," in number the 4,764,000 who came out of world War I.

It is also estimated that the total of all veterans in civilian life at the end of February, 1952, was 19,179,000. This total included 716,000 "since-Korea" veterans, many of whom served during World War II.

The term "since-Korea veteran," the VA spokesman told a reporter, applies to all persons who have served in the armed forces or in the expanded military services since June 27, 1950.

The agency said "more and more veterans disabled since the beginning of the Korean conflict" are turning to it for medical care and other disability benefits.

Mt. Union To Hold Mock GOP Convention

ALLIANCE, April 18—About 100 high school students are expected to participate in a mock Republican convention Saturday, sponsored by Mount Union College in the college's new library.

Robert Y. Fluno, assistant professor of political science and faculty chairman of the convention, said final notices were coming in from high schools with the number of delegates the school plans to send.

The convention will have two functions. It will nominate a candidate for the presidency and adopt a platform for the Republican party. Each school delegation will act as a state delegation.

Student delegates will find an atmosphere of red, white and blue bunting, Fluno said, and there are plenty of "Taft for President" and "I Like Ike" badges and signs on hand.

The program will get underway at 9:30 with registration and conclude after the main session of the convention at about 3:30 in the afternoon. Students will enjoy luncheon as guests of the college.

Reds Ask Talks On POW Trade Be Renewed

MUNSAN (AP)—Communist truce negotiators pressed again today for immediate resumption of the off-the-record talks on how to exchange prisoners of the Korean war.

The Reds made a similar suggestion Sunday. The U. N. command has not replied.

The talks were recessed April 4 so both sides could explore separately possible ways to break the deadlock over prisoner exchange. The Communists want all prisoners returned. The Allies insist that no one should be repatriated against his will.

The new proposal to resume prisoner talks came during a 2½ minute session of the subcommittee on truce supervision.

Fridley's Homer Nets Indians 1-0 Victory Over Chicago

Bob Lemon Limits Sox Three Hits

Tribe Wins Second; Garcia Hurls Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The season is only two days old, but Cleveland's Indians already have won half as many victories as they did all last year in Comiskey Park.

For yesterday's 1-0 triumph over Chicago, the Tribe can thank the first Major League hit by Rookie Jim Fridley. The husky left fielder slammed a second-inning pitch by Joe Dobson into the upper left field deck.

Big Mike Garcia, the Tribe's fastest righthander, tries today to make it three straight over the White Sox, who thumped the Indians seven out of 11 here in 1951. His opponent will be Marv Grissom, a hefty righthander up from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

BOB LEMON'S classy three-hit shutout yesterday improved on Early Wynn's fine six-hit, 3-2 victory in the opener. Lemon needed all his skill, for Dobson allowed only four hits in their pitching duel. Each walked four.

Outside of Fridley's homer, the Indians didn't get a runner as far as second until Luke Easter doubled to right in the ninth with two out. Dobson then walked Al Rosen and Fridley to fill the bases, but Hector Rodriguez, Chicago's rookie third baseman, stopped Ray Boone's hot grounder and picked it up before Rosen reached third.

The only other Cleveland hits were two singles by Harry Simpson, who was left on first both times.

THE WHITE SOX got three runners to third against Lemon, and he nailed one of them at the plate—Orestes Minosa who tried to make it home on Ray Coleman's fourth-inning roller toward the mound. Before that inning ended, Lemon loaded the bases by walking Sherm Lollar, but Jim Busby grounded to Boone for a force out at second that ended the inning.

First Baseman Eddie Robinson got two of the three hits off Lemon—one a looping double to left in the second. Pitcher Dobson's single in the fifth was the only other safe Chicago hit. Dobson made second when Al Rosen juggled Chico Carrasquel's grounder, but Nelson Fox hit into a force play at second and Minoso popped up a foul for a third out.

FRIDLEY, instead of rejoicing at his game-winning home run blast, was a bit downcast in the club house afterward for two reasons:

First, he said he "should have murdered" Dobson's ninth-inning 3-0 pitch to him with two men on. "It was a slider and right down the alley," Fridley lamented.

Second, the rookie says "left field still gives me trouble. I'm used to playing right, and there's difference in the way the ball curves." He had trouble with two line drives his way yesterday, but he caught them both. He looked awkward.

With Bob Kennedy heading for the Marines next month, Fridley still may see considerable action in right field for Cleveland before the next 152 games are played.

Bob Elliott Slams Pair Of Homers As Giants Win

(By Associated Press)

Bob Elliott's crashing two-homer debut chased the Monte Irvin Blues out of the Polo Grounds.

New York Giant fans, dubious of the value of a 35-year-old Boston Brave "castoff" came to the Polo Grounds last night to be shown. Elliott sure showed them. He made Irvin's ankle fracture seem less tragic.

When the Giants bought Big Bob from the Braves, April 8, for $50,000 and Pitcher Sheldon Jones, Manager Leo Durocher shouted "He'll be my crasher." Now the fans know what Leo meant.

First a home run deep into the upper left field seats in the fourth inning. Then No. 2 into the right field seats in the eighth. Elliott sprayed new optimism into the Giant cause.

Just a few hours before Elliott ruined opening night for Robin Roberts, the doctors sewed together Monte Irvin's torn ligaments. They said the 1951 runs batted in champ might be ready to pinch hit in late July. Elliott's performance and this optimistic report on Irvin restored some of the glow of the miracle of '51.

Elliott's home runs plus steady four-hit pitching by Sal Maglie made New York's first night opener a success with a 5-3 win over the Phillies. It was Sal The Barber's ninth straight over the whiz kids. He struck out eight and restricted his trouble to the three-run fifth.

If Elliott keeps it up, the Braves probably will swear off trading with the Giants. They gave them Al Dark and Eddie Stanky, the makings of a pennant winner. And now Elliott, who was holding out, comes to life in a new uniform.

IRONICALLY, the Braves staggered through a rugged afternoon, absorbing a 14-8 pasting from the slugging Brooklyn Dodgers. The Brooks flattened Max Surkont in the first inning and kept it up all day for 20 hits, including five by Duke Snider and a homer, double and single by Roy Campanella.

The man from St. Louis—Stan Musial—got hot with the bat to drive home three runs with a homer and double in the Cardinals' second straight night victory over Pittsburgh, 6-5. The Cards ripped Howie Pollet, a former teammate, for five runs after two were out in the seventh.

Vic Raschi got the world champ New York Yankees off winging in their drive toward a fourth straight pennant with an 8-1 romp over the Philadelphia A's. Big Vic owns a lifetime 21-2 record against the A's. However, he needed help from Johnny Sain when he developed a wild streak and walked two straight in the ninth after pitching two-hit shutout ball for the first eight frames.

Hank Bauer's homer in the fourth inning started the Yanks on the way. They finally clubbed Alex Kellner to the showers in the ninth when they scored five runs and boosted their hit total to 14, three by Mickey Mantle.

CLEVELAND and the surprising St. Louis Browns kept step in their two-way tie for the American League lead. The Indians nipped Chicago, 1-0, on rookie Jim Fridley's homer and Bob Lemon's three-hit pitching while Rogers Hornsby's Brownies clipped Detroit, 5-4.

Floyd Baker, supposed to be a "good field, no hit" man, won a night game for Washington with a bases-loaded single off Boston's Ellis Kinder with two out in the eleventh, 4-3. Irv Noren's double and two walks loaded them up. Julto Moreno went all the way for the Senators.

The Indians continued to get super pitching with Lemon doing the job but had to depend on a rookie from Dallas to do the hitting. Fridley's second-inning homer ruined Joe Dobson's four-hit job.

Hornsby got some help from Tommy Byrne, that good hitting pitcher, for the Browns' second straight win. Hornsby lifted two regulars for pinchhitters in the seventh inning but let Byrne hit for himself. Tommy doubled home the first run as St. Louis rallied with three to tie. They won with two in the eighth on Tom Wright's single, a triple by Rookie George Schmees and double by Hank Arft.

Cincinnati and Chicago had an open date in the National.

Marion Motley Inks Browns' Contract

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fullback Marion Motley, who has averaged nearly six yards a plunge in six years with the Cleveland Browns, has signed his 1952 contract, the club announced today.

The 238-pound Canton bonecrusher is 32 and had what was for him a poor season last year when he was bothered by knee trouble. His age and ailments caused many Browns' followers to consider him near the end of his pro football career.

Marion says he feels fine, hasn't put on any extra poundage and has had no knee troubles since last November. He says he has every intention of doing the Browns' fullbacking in the coming season.

Ten years ago — Bob Pastor, 183, was floored twice in the first round but rallied to outpoint Jimmy Bivins, 176¼, in a ten round bout at Cleveland.

Ray Robinson KO's Graziano In Third Round

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson, who is 32 but still has a quick and paralyzing punch, today was ready for a shot at his third world title after a third-round knockout of challenger Rocky Graziano.

Robinson last night defeated former 160-pound champion Graziano before a Chicago Stadium crowd of 22,264. It may get him a bout with Champion Joey Maxim for the light-heavy crown in New York next June.

The brief but blistering bout paid $82,208 to Robinson and $68,507 to Graziano.

It was a miscalculation that dropped the curtains on eager, wild-swinging Graziano.

"See, I bounced off the ropes in the middle of the third round and clouted Robinson good with a right and down he goes," said Graziano in his dressing room. Robinson went down for no-count midway in the third round.

"So a little later, he drives me to the ropes with a left to the body and I figure to bounce off again and give it to him good. But, wham, he blasts that right and it catches me right on the button and the fight is over."

SUGAR RAY STILL considers himself the welterweight king. But he automatically vacated that crown when he beat Jake Lamotta for the 160-pound title.

Robinson's intense pride and the prospects of another lush gate, possibly comparing with last night's net of $194,028, gave solid support to the report of a June clash with Maxim.

Robinson, despite claims he is only a shell of his old fighting self, was a crafty butcher against Graziano, who had weighed in at 159¾.

The champion won the first round by a shade, booming a two-fisted attack to the surprise of experts who expected him to retreat until Graziano ran out of gas.

THE SECOND ROUND was pretty much of a standoff, although Graziano started clubbing with his wicked right until Robinson hastily back-pedaled.

The third round found Graziano getting a little cocky. When he floored Robinsin with a right that spilled the champion so quickly it looked like he slipped, Rocky made a fatal mistake.

Robinson quickly uprighted himself and then squaring off for murderous range, pumped the left-right combination that put the lights out for Rocky. Graziano courageously tried to get his collapsed body upright, but he didn't make it until after Referee Tommy Gilmore had counted 10.

Hornets Play Tonight

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A determined band of Pittsburgh Hornets tonight will try to win the first Calder Cup championship in the 16 years Pittsburgh has been in the American Hockey League.

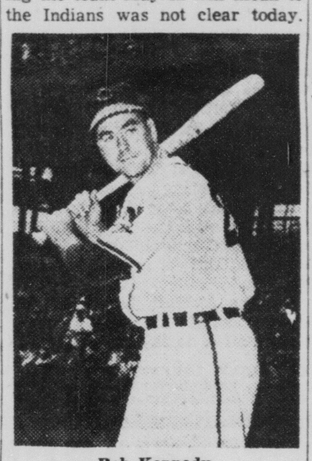
The Hornets hold a commanding 3-1 edge in games over Providence in the best of seven series.

Prior to his entry into horse racing in 1908, trainer Roy Waldron was a bat boy for the St. Louis Browns.

Indians Will Lose Kennedy To Marines

CHICAGO (AP)—For the first time since World War II, the Cleveland Indians are going to lose an established regular—Outfielder Bob Kennedy—to the military service.

Just what effect Kennedy's leaving the team May 21 will mean to the Indians was not clear today.



Bob Kennedy

Manager Al Lopez said the club will miss Bob, even though Harry Simpson currently is playing a good game in right field.

In any case, Lopez was one of the few who knew Bob's secret during spring training: That he received his orders in February, recalling him as a combat Marine Corps pilot. Yesterday Bob passed his physical and told everybody.

"It's a tough break," said Lopez. "He does not know if he will ever be able to play ball again."

KENNEDY SAID that while he "can't help thinking" about his wife and three small children:

"I don't mind going. I know it's my duty. The only thing I'd rather do than play ball is fly, and I hear there is nothing like flying a jet. Well, we'll soon find out."

The orders were kept secret, Bob went on, because he didn't want "all that publicity" such as Ted Williams of the Red Sox and Gerry Coleman of the Yankees received when the Marines recalled them.

Goshen Athletes Honored At Banquet

Goshen Union High School athletes were honored last night at their annual athletic banquet put on by the Goshen Boosters Club.

Nelson Jones, grid mentor and athletic director at Mount Union College, was the guest speaker for the evening, talking on the expectations of coaches and the public from athletic teams.

The boys honored were Glenn Miller, Horace Roberts, Daryl Wyss, Leonard Engler and Wendell Stanley. The Allen West orchestra and two accordion solos by Betty Denny provided entertainment.

Salem Host To Rayen Friday At Reilly Field

Coach Frank Tarr and his tracksters will play host to Youngstown Rayen at 4 p. m. Friday when the Tigermen invade Reilly Stadium for a dual meet.

Rayen, as they have in previous years, will boast many runners in the first meet for the Quakers. Another such dual affair is slated for next Tuesday with the Boardman Spartans.

Coach Tarr has a lot of inexperienced trackmen this year but hopes to inspire his tracksters to a win Friday. Those who will add support to his hopes are Bill Pasco and Jim Cusack, both lettermen who threw the shot last year. Pasco will also heave the discus in Friday's meet as will Sophomore Fritz Marple.

Mike Solomen, senior, is the key man in the high jump and he is backed by Maurice Sinsley, Jim Lewis and Benny Roelen. Sinsley and Lewis will also compete in the broad jump along with George Mordew and Jim Watterson.

POLE VAULTING finds Eddie Votaw and Roy Honeywell, both juniors, holding the key spots. Votaw was a jumper last year and is following his brother, John.

The mile run will find Tarr with a threesome of veterans in Tommy Johnston, Jerry Martin and John Rottenborn. All have run in the past years and are in good shape for this season. The half-mile will find Roelen, Stan Cosky and Harry Davidson making the double lap. Roelen ran last year while the other pair are getting first trials.

Joe Hajcak and Bob Sebo will be in the low hurdles this year but the Salem team will lack a high hurdler.

As dashmen, Tarr has Watterson, Jack Ference and Bill Lipp in the 440-yard scamper and Sebo, Bill Herman and Bill Crookston in the 220-yard dash.

Relay teams haven't been completely decided yet, according to Tarr, but the locals will have a combination come Friday. A tentative mile relay team may consist of Lipp, Watterson, Roelen and Rottenborn, but the Salem coach wasn't sure.

One of the University of Alabama's top candidates for the varsity tennis squad is David Riggs, nephew of the famous net star Bobby Riggs.

Women's Association To Meet Sunday At 2

The annual spring meeting of the Salem Women's Bowling Association will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the American Legion home on N. Pearl St. in Columbiana, Secretary Vivienne Wilt announced today.

The site of next year's city tournament will be selected, city fees for next year voted upon, officers for the next two years elected and the medals and prize money won at this year's tourney will be presented.

Trenton Prisoners Still Barricaded

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Officials at Trenton State Prison today watched for signs of a break in a revolt by 68 convicts barricaded in the prison printing shop.

The prison administration is "waiting it out" in an effort to insure the safety of four employes held as hostages by the rioters since 10 a.m. Tuesday, when the revolt began.

Reports so far indicate the hostages, two of whom have heart trouble, have not been harmed by the convicts and have even been fed and permitted to secure medicine from the outside.

The rioters have been without food, water or electricity since they took over the two-story stone shop, one of a group of industrial buildings near the prison's wall.

The building has been surrounded with guards since the distrubance started. During the night floodlights covered all possible means of exit.

Inquest Into Traffic Death Set For Tonight

A coroner's inquest into the traffic death of William H. George, 62, of Harpster, O., will be held at 7:30 tonight in Rogers, scene of the fatal accident.

George died at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday in Salem City Hospital, about five hours after he was struck by a car driven by John K. Black, 74, of RD 1, East Palestine.

George suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. He was visiting relatives in Rogers and was hit as he stepped from behind a truck moving north on Route 7.

Black told Sheriff Howard J. Clark the signal light was in his favor. George was returning from the postoffice when struck.

Three Boys Drown In Ohio River

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Police dragged the rain-swollen Ohio River today for the bodies of three boys who drowned on a springtime Huckleberry Finn adventure.

The boys, lured on by spring and an abandoned raft, tumbled into the icy water yesterday. Half-eaten remnants of three lunches led to the identification of James A. Britsch, 17, Philip Lomb, 14, and Charles Bookser, 16, all students at Allegheny Vocational High School.

Caught In Wringer, Woman Loses Arms

BAD AXE, Mich. (AP)—The mangled forearms of an 82-year-old woman who was trapped for 24 hours by a washing machine wringer were amputated at the elbow today.

Physicians at Hubbard Memorial Hospital here said the condition of Mrs. Bella Dundas was "as good as could be expected considering the ordeal she went through."

Neighbors found Mrs. Dundas yesterday. She was standing in a foot of water in her basement, and her arms were caught tight in the washing machine rollers.

Stalin Can Wait

Money Is Important Factor In Reds' Cold War Activities

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
(Third Of A Series)

PARIS (AP)—Stalin waits for the time of conquest to ripen, and the money rolls in for his legions abroad.

It takes money—much money—to feed Stalinism.

Where does the money come from?

Even the salaries of Communist members of Parliament are tapped to swell the party coffers.

From Communist journalists and professionals come regular remittances—the members income less a living allowance on the scale of a skilled worker.

From constant subscription drives on behalf of the Communist press come the francs and lire and marks of working people persuaded that their lot can be bettered.

But from Moscow comes the bulk of operating revenue. Cominform countries scurry about Europe with remittances doled out to parties according to their needs and importance. Some parties, in Scandanavia for instance, get virtually nothing. Others, particularly in France and Italy, are liberally aided so long as Moscow sees results forthcoming.

SOVIET DIPLOMAT, immune from customs regulations, transports gold to be used to buy francs or lire or marks on the black market.

The black marketer in Paris or Rome or Frankfurt who sidles up to the visitor to offer local money for American dollars may be indirectly in the employ of the Cominform. The Cominform assiduously gathers American dollars for its own ends.

Every possible source is tapped, even to raids on the treasuries of the unions which are dominated and controlled by the Communists. The money pours in under the impetus of rigid party discipline.

But the operations of a Communist party are highly expensive, particularly in the key areas of Europe. No matter how extensive the resources of the party domestically, Moscow must kick in.

There is a striking example of this. In an address to the French National Assembly in November, 1948, Jules Mich, then interior minister, gave this explanation:

THE FRENCH COMMUNIST party and its various branches have the great advantage of having accounts at one single institution, the Banque Commercial Pour L'Europe Du Nord. A peculiarity of this bank, which is a French limited company, is that its capital is divided into 100,000 shares, 97,000 of which belong to two Soviet government banks, the National Bank and the Foreign Trade Bank. The remaining 3,000 shares are distributed among various French and foreign Communist leaders.

"This French facade, therefore, is hiding a purely Soviet reality."

The bank is still operating. French government sources say the total accounts of Communist organizations are overdrawn by 15 million francs ($4,260,000).

In addition, large sums come from countries of Eastern Europe, either through transfer to the Banque Commerciale Pour L'Europe Du Nord or through the transport of gold under diplomatic cover.

Moreover, the Communist party spends millions on its press in the cities and the provinces. Again with France as the example: There are some 20 Communist dailies, 83 weeklies and 26 magazines.

COMMUNISTS IN VARIOUS countries did well by themselves during the wartime resistance to the Nazis. Often they seized large sums of money as the Germans withdrew, and converted the money to their own purposes.

In France—and probably elsewhere, since France is the prototype—every Communist deputy in the National Assembly must pay into party coffers the difference between his salary and that of a skilled worker of the metal trades. This also applies to members of municipal governments and departmental assemblies.

From salaries paid to Red representatives in the National Assembly alone, the Communists received in 1950 a total of 166 million francs. These salaries were collected by the party fund.

In another way the French government, in spite of itself, helps subsidize the Communist party. Tons of literature for the party are sent out under the franking privileges of Communist legislators.

There is yet another source of Communist funds.

The Enterprise Fund is a device controlled by the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor in France and Italy. This is a fund assessed against workers, nominally to pay for such things as entertainment, showers and other facilities for the workers. But it is controlled at the top. The Enterprise Fund at the Renault plant in August, 1951, used a million francs to send 100 French workers to the youth festival in Soviet-controlled East Berlin.

Stuffed Peppers Are Regal Food

This is the way Hungarian women in Connecticut turn stuffed green peppers into regal eating.

Hungarian Stuffed Peppers

6 green peppers (plump, uniform)
1 lb. ground beef
½ cup chopped onion
1 egg
1 cup uncooked rice
1 teaspoon salt
pepper
1 10½-ounce can tomato soup
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup thick sour cream

Cut tops off green peppers. Use scissors to remove center and all the seeds. Combine ground beef, onion, egg, rice, salt and pepper.

Mix well and stuff loosely into the green peppers (allow for rice to swell). Place upright in a casserole. Pour tomato soup mixed with 2 cans of water into the casserole.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) at least one hour or until rice is tender. (If rice is boiled 10 minutes before combining with the meat, one hour baking is adequate).

Remove peppers to hot platter. Combine flour and sour cream and stir into the tomato sauce in the casserole. Stir and boil to thicken. Pour over the peppers.

With cabbage, now look what they do!

Mrs. Kovacs' Cabbage Rolls

1 lb. ground beef, or half beef and veal or pork
1 cup rice
1 egg
½ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
pepper
1 medium head cabbage
1 small can sauerkraut
1 10½-ounce can tomato soup

Combine beef, rice, egg, onion and seasoning. Soften cabbage in boiling water for about 2 minutes. Then cut off 16 large outer leaves.

Cut out and discard hard center rib of each leaf and top leaf with rounded tablespoon of beef mixture. Roll up leaf and tuck in the edges to make a compact roll, about 3 inches long.

Make small balls out of remaining meat mixture. Spread sauerkraut in large skillet or casserole. Top with cabbage rolls and meat balls.

Cover with remaining cabbage chopped fine. Pour tomato soup mixed with one can of water over the cabbage and meat. Cover.

Cook slowly over low heat or in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour. Drain off liquid and thicken with 2 tablespoons flour mixed with 2 tablespoons butter. Heat and pour over the cabbage rolls. Serve hot. Yield: about 16 small rolls.

Drop biscuits are always a good shape if they are baked in lightly greased muffin pans. A drop biscuit dough is like that of a regular biscuit dough but it contains more milk.

PROXY PIZZA

For each serving:
1 slice bread
Butter or margarine
2 teaspoons tomato paste
1 flat anchovy
Oregano
Olive oil
1 to 2 teaspoons grated cheddar cheese

Toast bread on one side under broiler; spread untoasted side with butter or margarine; spread with tomato paste right up to edge of bread. Cut anchovy in small pieces and sprinkle over tomato paste; sprinkle with oregano, olive oil, and grated cheese. place under broiler until cheese melts, but watch carefully so as not to burn. Serve at once.

Meat Pie, Sage Biscuits Are Sure To Please

"What's cooking?" the family asks the moment they enter the house—spring has such a wonderful way of sharpening appetites and stimulating interest in food And with a good, hot and hearty meat pie topped with sage biscuits, before them, nobody needs to be coaxed to the dinner table.

SAVORY MEAT PIE

- 2 lbs beef shank or neck meat
- seasoned flour
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 onions, chopped
- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 bay leaves
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 3 carrots
- 3 potatoes
- 6 small white onions
- 1 cup canned whole kernel corn
- 1 cup cooked or canned lima beans

Have meat cut in pieces; roll in flour. Brown meat with chopped onions on all sides in hot lard. Add tomatoes, boiling water, bay leaves, salt and pepper. Simmer 1 hour.

Slice carrots 1 inch thick; quarter potatoes. Add white onions to meat mixture; simmer ¾ hour longer, or until meat and vegetables are almost tender. Add corn and lima beans. Simmer 15 minutes.

If desired, drain liquid from stew and thicken with two tablespoons of flour for each cup of liquid for gravy. Add topping of biscuits, whipped potatoes, pie crust, or rice and bake in oven until done.

Sage Biscuits: Sift together 2 cups sifted flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon sage. Cut in 4-6 tablespoons lard until mixture has a fine, even crumb.

Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead for ½ minute. Pat or roll ½ inch thick. Cut with a medium-sized biscuit cutter dipped in flour.

SURPRISE DESSERT

- 1 cup water
- 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup apricot syrup (from canned apricots)
- 1 No. 2½ can whole unpeeled apricots
- 1/3 cup chunk-style peanut butter
- ¼ cup chopped dates
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons apricot syrup.

Put water in a saucepan and bring to a boil; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Stir in well 1 cup apricot syrup; chill until partially set. Meanwhile remove pits from apricots. In a small bowl, mix peanut butter, dates, lemon juice, and 2 tablespoons apricot syrup.

Fill the cavity of each apricot with peanut butter mixture, pressing halves together so fruit retains its whole appearance. Put 1 filled apricot into each individual mold. Then fill molds with gelatin and chill until firm. Unmold before serving if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Skin russeting ordinarily does not affect apple quality. But what is important in buying apples is to choose varieties that bave the flavor and texture you enjoy.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 8 ounces elbow macaroni
- 1 6-ounce package American cheese food
- 1 10½-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup chopped parsley

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Dice cheese food. In a large bowl, mix diced cheese food, soup, milk, parsley, and cooked macaroni. Place macaroni mixture into 1½-quart casserole; cover. Bake in moderate (325 F.) oven 45 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Finely diced onion helps pep up cole slaw; finely chopped green pepper is also good added to the slaw.

For Reducers

Anyone in your family trying to acquire a new slim figure for a new spring suit? Want some appealing recipes that fit a reducing diet? Here are two suggestions that look good, taste good, and go easy on calories.

For a reducer's luncheon plate peel big juicy oranges so no white membrane remains, cut into round slices, and arrange on lettuce. Next on the plate put white or pink-meat grapefruit, carefully sectioned. Add deviled eggs, shrimp, and crisp cucumber slices. Leave the peel on the cucumber for a bright green note.

Serve the salad with a low-calorie salad dressing. This plate will give any reducer plenty of good nutrition: The eggs and fish provide protein, the fruit offers vitamin C plus delicious flavor, and the cucumber adds crunchy texture.

A dessert that will make dieters happy is a tapioca cream made with a new non-caloric sweetening solution and apricots canned without sugar. This new non-caloric sweetening solution is a blessing because it can be cooked without losing its sweetness or leaving a bitter aftertaste.

LOW-CALORIE APRICOT TAPIOCA PARFAIT

1 egg (separated)
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
2¼ teaspoons non-caloric sweetening
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
Apricot halves (canned without sugar)

Beat egg white stiff but not dry. Mix egg yolk with small amount of the milk in a saucepan. Add tapioca, non-caloric sweetening solution, remaining milk, and salt. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil—5 to 8 minutes.

Stir small amount of hot mixture into egg white; stirring constantly blend in remaining mixture. Stir in vanilla. Cool. Stir once after 15 minutes. Chill. arrange alternate layers of tapioca and apricot halves in parfait glasses, using 4 apricot halves to a serving if desired. Makes six servings—each containing only 92 calories.

A Pudding To Inspire Poets

A bread pudding to inspire a sonnet, this is one you'll be proud to serve even to your most discriminating dinner guests. The base of this bread pudding supreme is a light and moist mixture, with lots of crunchy toasted coconut baked right in.

Over this is spread a layer of jam or jelly which adds a delicious flavor and lends an attractive color.

To make is a really a poem of a dessert, there's a topping of fluffy meringue and additional coconut.

BREAD PUDDING SUPREME

3 cups milk, scalded
2 tablespoons melted butter
1½ cups bread, cut in ½-inch cubes
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup coconut, toasted and crushed slightly
½ cup jam or jelly
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup coconut

Combine milk butter and bread cubes in greased baking dish. Add ½ cup sugar, salt and flavorings to egg and mix well. Add to milk mixture.

Add toasted coconut and stir lightly. Let stand 10 minutes, place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 F.) for 30 minutes.

Spread pudding with jam or jelly. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Pile lightly on pudding and sprinkle with ¼ cup coconut. Bake 15 minutes longer, or until delicately browned. Serve warm or cold. Makes 6 servings.

FISH CHOWDER PIE

1 lb. canned or cooked fish
1 cup cooked diced carrots
2 hard-cooked eggs (sliced)
4 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped onion
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 recipe Bran Pastry

Arrange fish, carrots, and sliced eggs in greased casserole. Heat shortening, add green pepper and onion and cook over low heat about 10 minutes, stirring often. Blend in flour and add milk.

Cook slowly until thickened, stirring constantly. Add lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and seasonings. Pour over ingredients in casserole. Top with Bran Pastry and bake in a hot (450F.) oven about 30 minutes or until crust is lightly browned. Makes 9 servings.

Bran Pastry

¼ cup ready-to-eat bran
1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
4 tablespoons (about) cold water

Mix bran with flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Add water a little at a time, until dough is moist enough to hold together. Roll out on lightly floured board to about ⅛-inch thickness.

SOUR CREAM SLAW

3 cups finely shredded green cabbage
½ cup commercially-prepared sour cream
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
½ teaspoon celery seed
1 tablespoon finely grated onion salt and freshly-ground pepper (to taste)
salad greens
paprika

Put cabbage in a medium-sized mixing bowl. Put sour cream in a small mixing bowl and add sugar, vinegar, celery seed, and onion; stir well. Pour dressing over cabbage and toss lightly. Add salt and pepper to taste, mixing lightly. Before serving, ring slaw with salad greens and sprinkle with paprika. Makes 4 servings.

A cloth filter gives exceptionally clear coffee but it must be kept fresh and clean or it will produce an off-coffee flavor.

Chop two hard cooked eggs and mix with three tablespoons of thick sour cream and lots of salt and freshly-ground pepper; use as a filling for two hearty luncheon sandwiches. Add some carrot sticks to the lunchbox for crunchy contrast and flavor.

PICK of PEACHES in the LAND of the PINEAPPLE

WAR GAMES in peaceful Hawaii? Yes, but it's only a battle of beauties competing in the annual Pageant of Nations. The battleground is the University of Hawaii where co-eds of many races decorate the campus. Queens are selected from each of the six ethnic groups: Chinese, Japanese, Caucasian, Korean, Filipino and Hawaiian. Thousands of lovely maidens from all over the islands compete yearly. Here are the winners in 1952 who are "fairest of the fair."

Margaret Kim, Korean.

Nancy Shinkoeth, Caucasian.

Noelani Kamekona, Hawaiian.

Katherine Shiroma, Japanese.

Phyllis Wong, Chinese.

Conchita Caindec, Filipino.
